DEDICATION

Cognizant of His unswerving dedication to the cause of peace, fully aware of His paternal confidence in the magnanimity and potentialities of today's youth, and especially appreciative of His indiscriminate love and concern for souls the world over, the faculty and student body of Pomona Catholic High School humbly dedicate the 1962 FIDELIAN to —

His Holiness Pope John XXIII

Most Holy Father

Rt. Rev. Monsignor

Thomas P. English

humbly prostrate at the feet of Your Holiness, begs a special

Apostolic Blessing

for the Administration, Faculty, Student Body of Pomona Catholic High School, their friends, and benefactors.

Summo Dominus benigne avertat oculos.

St. Aud. Vaticanis Jolis 2 Feb. 1962.

PEACE through

Christianity is truly a joining together of earth with heaven in that it takes man concretely, spirit and matter, intellect and will, and invites him to raise his mind above the earthly existence to the heights of eternal life which will be consummated in unending happiness and peace.

-Pope John XXIII

AS A PART OF THE CAMPAIGN FOR CHRISTIAN PEACE, the Associated Student body has adopted "Peace Through Understanding" as the motto of Pomona Catholic High for the year 1961-62. The maxim has proved the driving force behind every spiritual, social, and academic activity on campus and beyond. As such, the FIDELAIN staff recognizes it as the very keynote to the PCH story for the current year. Therefore, this motto has been selected as a theme for this year's annual.

understanding ...

We salute...

RT. REV. MSGR. THOMAS P. ENGLISH

Pastor of St. Joseph's Parish and

Administrator of Pomona Catholic High

As we stand before the altar of the sanctuary and kneel before the throne of our Almighty God to receive the merit of our life's labors, let us remember it was Monsignor English and his sincere appreciation and genuine esteem for the many efforts of our beloved Pastor on our behalf.

We are well aware of his tireless concern for the welfare of our soul. We know how often Monsignor English encouraged us to advance in spiritual perfection with singleness of purpose and clarity of vision amidst the the bewildering contradictions of a confused world. We watch with admiration as the faithful of St. Joseph's Parish receive the sacraments in such large numbers on Sunday mornings and we realize that we do likewise largely because Monsignor English had inspired the courage.

We cherish the thought of the Catholic education that has been ours at Pomona Catholic High, and again we reflect that except for our Pastor's outstanding accomplishments as an administrator, these could not have been ours.

We are grateful to you, to be members of this black community to express our thanks by participating as mature adults in all parish activities. The others of us, for whom St. Joseph's has become something of a second parish, are grateful for having been so privileged; we will always feel indebted for the benefits received.

Graduating Class of 1962

To these, Lord, give health, peace, concord, and firmness, that they may administer to the honor and glory of Thy Name

FORGIVENESS

SISTER MARY BENILDA presents the Girl of the Month Award to Annette Stahly at the November Girls' League meeting. Alert to recognize accomplishments of PCH students in diverse areas, Sister has been quick to publicly acknowledge these whenever possible.

REALIZING THE NEEDS of rapidly progressing methods in education, Sister Mary Benilda gives careful consideration to PTA projects in the hope that Pomona Catholic students may advance in pace with current trends. Here Sister discusses the purchase of an additional movie projector with PTA members Mrs. V. Moran and Mrs. J. Kelly.

The Class of 1962 wish to express their sincere gratitude to Sister Mary Benilda, Principal of Pomona Catholic High, for

Her personal interest in their needs and problems

Her quickness to recognize and foster a wholesome ambition to achieve

Her encouragement in times of difficulty

Her carefulness to indicate the importance of high scholastic performance in terms of professional goals

Her ultimate concern for the interior peace and spiritual growth of each and every PCH student

Their words inspired us.

Extensive academic preparation, professional degrees, and many years of experience account for the competence our teachers have remarkably displayed in their respective fields of specialization. We have had the opportunity to draw upon this richness of learning which they have in turn obtained from various sources that span the continent and beyond it—Washington D.C., Canada, St. Louis, Chicago, Cuba, Berlin.

The scope of the Christian apostolate, however, is not limited to intellectual endeavors, but rather extends to the needs of the whole man with all his faculties both natural and supernatural. Mindful of their own limitations, our faculty have sought help of the Almighty. Their seeking was not in vain, for in their faith we have found a penetrating light; in their hope an unrelenting optimism; in their charity, a divine wisdom.

We the tenth and last coeducational class to graduate from P.C.H., pause to look back. The four years have passed too quickly, but we are content in the realization that our class has set and achieved its goal.

We had our share of book carrying and shoe shining as freshmen in '58, but to us, high school was an exciting new adventure. A LANCE reporter noted that John Norr actually enjoyed the "loads of homework," Frank Talcott relished the "rush in the hallways," Gerry Kinkle appreciated the nuns' "getting right down to work." Larry McDonald (and he hasn't changed) found the lunch bell an indispensable asset. We came out on top in the candy drive that year, and finished a close second in supporting the missions.

Our first day as sophomores confirmed the rumor that P.C. was going "all-girls," but the change didn't affect us much. Mike LeDoux's "Strontium 90 in the Teeth" captured first prize in biology in the annual science fair and thus earned for us the respect of upperclassmen. Our talent Spartacular won acclaim despite wobbly moustaches and a nodding curtain-ringer. But our most cherished pride consisted in furnishing a tabernacle for our Lord in the renovated chapel.

We were remarkably intrepid as juniors. What other class could successfully sponsor a car wash on a rainy day? Plenty of gumption and plain hard work went into staging "Our American Heritage," and who'll ever forget the sight of John Baker in pink satin breeches, or Ed Gomez' platinum curls? Ring Day evoked the excitement of being "almost seniors," but it brought with it the sober realization of the responsibilities involved in being the leaders of the A.S.B.

Our senior year has been a most memorable one, crowded with events, honors, memories. The boys, although nearing extinction at P.C., made a melodious last stand in the operetta "The Gypsy," and proved that quality is more important than quantity.

The senior play, May Crowning, and all the other activities and privileges reserved for seniors culminated with graduation, so wonderful and yet somewhat sad, because it marked the last time we would be together as a class.

Indebted to many, we close this chapter in our lives humbly grateful, confident that our way of life shall testify to this gratitude.

JUNIORS

*In tranquillity we enjoyed
God and each other's company in God.*

Three years ago sixty-nine students arrived at P.C.H. as a new class, conceived of girls only and dedicated to the proposition of being the first and best all-girl class.

Contrary to tradition, we were spared the chagrins that only initiation can administer. Our freshman year was quiet and unobtrusive, but we were steadily gaining momentum for the years ahead.

It was not too long before an occasion presented itself and we released our energies in a race to become first in a candy drive. We made it, and our reputation went up on the scales.

If any shyness remained after our feat in salesmanship, it has surely disappeared in this our junior year. Determined to make P.C.H. famous, we wrote in prose and in verse and acquired twenty-one literary awards. We applied the brush to the canvas and won recognition there, too. We tossed the question of Federal Aid to Education back and forth in heated debates at Saint Michael's in Los Angeles and Chaffey High in Ontario, and scored in both events.

Sponsoring the junior-senior prom was a major responsibility. We used our imagination to contrive an original fund raising project to help finance the big event. A pop bottle drive proved a partial solution.

But our creativeness did not stop there. We tried our luck at dramaturgy and staged a talent show that brought laughs and a few useful pennies besides.

Now the din has subsided and quietly resolute, we are engaged in a great many new pursuits, testing whether our class, so uniquely conceived and dedicated, can competently assume the obligations of the coming senior year.

As juniors, we have inherited the sweat and thrills of the Booster Club. It isn't often that a group will dedicate three days out of the week to maintain school spirit, but we did. We continued our poster making and tagged for tags long after the football season had passed.

Spartans may not remember all our billboards, but it is not very likely they will forget the day we buried a Monarch in effigy or the glorious ride they gave our life-sized Spartan through the streets of Pomona at Homecoming.

We sewed stitches until our fingers were numb and smelled paste almost to asphyxiation, but it was fun and we had a jolly good time doing it.

BOOSTERS MEAN BUSINESS. Their projects are much too big for table work, but the floor serves just as well for Barbara Rizzo, Carol Hastie, and Carol Lynch in their efforts to paint a "Welcome" sign tantamount to the largess of true Spartan spirit.

We have reached the halfway mark in our high school career. Our first year was surely "fresh" as we encountered one new experience after the other.

The election of officers saw Micki King swing into the position of class president with the partisan slogan—"Kennedy in November; King in September!" Yuletide in freshmanhood provided an opportunity for students in algebra class to demonstrate their lyrical and mathematical skills in formulating "algebrized" Christmas carols.

Spring came and with it the freshman dance, "Carousel." In May, Pat Brutacao and Mary Smothermon reigned as princesses at the Pomona Catholic Boys' School fiesta. With the coming of class elections, Pat Brutacao assumed the office of president, and we bequeathed the lowest rung of the ladder to the incoming Class of 1965.

This year we determined to make our presence felt by active participation in school drives and activities. As a result, Barbara LaPointe assumed the presidency over the French Club, and under her direction, P.C.H. exchanged its first Joyeux Noel with the Sungshin Girls' High School in Seoul, Korea, via tape-recording.

The Mission Club, under the leadership of its president, Philomena Batista, made an all-out stamp collection for the Felician missions in Brazil, a drive in which the sophomores unquestionably took first place.

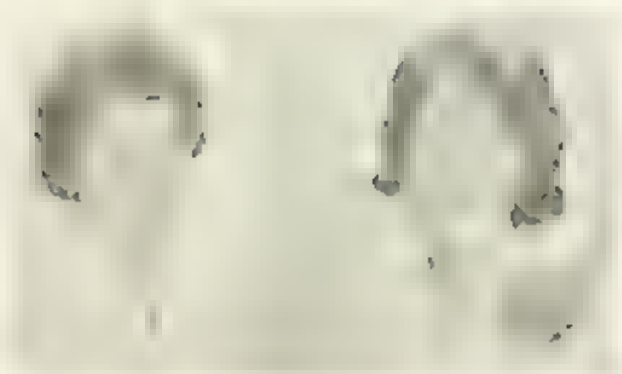

"Know your campus!" became a motto for Biology Club students as they busied themselves with the identification and classification of flora. In the name of club members, Carolyn Nash, as president, presented the Biology Department with a volume entitled California Flora, an invaluable key to the problems encountered in their undertaking.

In addition to scholastic and charitable projects, we tampered with Pepsters and sports, certainly not without a measure of success.

Many diversified fields find gifted representatives in the Sophomore Class. The arts-literary, musical, and oratorical—as well as lighter pursuits have their ardent devotees. We take pride in the outstanding performance of Carolyn Nash in the Glee Club presentation, "Thirty Minutes of Schubert."

Sue Moran and Pat Brutacao have merited the respected Quill and Scroll Award for their literary work on the staff of the FIDELIAN. Suzanne McQuaid placed first in original oratory at the Mask and Gavel Speech Tournament held at Chaffey High School.

Bonnie Bechard brought us fame as head majorette. Her talent added much to Spartan half-time activities and helped win a first place trophy at the Glendora Christmas parade.

TALENT IN EVERY FIELD can be found among the sophomores. Carolyn Nash excels in music, Sue Moran has demonstrated creative writing ability and Bonnie Bechard shines in acrobatics and baton twirling.

School spirit was of vital concern to the Class of 1964. Led by the junior varsity cheerleaders, the sophomores rooted indiscriminately for P.C.H. football, basketball, or volleyball teams.

"Fight, Pomona, fight!" or "Go, team, go!" gave players the try and umph to keep at it. Whether the battlefield was Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Anaheim, or Whittier, the sophomores got there somehow—even by hearse when necessary.

Our Pepsters, as majorettes and drill team members, aided the junior varsity in arousing an insurmountable spirit. Not content with merely watching sports events, we comprised a majority on the girls' volleyball and basketball teams, and played as ardently as we shouted.

In order we found liberty and in self-discipline peace of heart.

Having been properly and officially introduced into Pomona Catholic High as Spartans, we accepted our status quo as the lowest class, not merely with resignation, but even with a certain amount of pride.

We did have our trepidations the first day or so. For some strange reason, the home economics room seemed miles away from the cafeteria and room 208 nearly as high as the Empire State building. But the terrain is familiar to us now, and all such bewilderment has left us completely.

Boot Camp Day, Play Day, and Doomsday--all inventions of our ingenious seniors--are probably largely responsible for the courage we now claim to be ours. It is surprising what baby bibs, scooter traffic, and kangaroo courts can do for freshmen.

Over the public address system our fellow freshmen were often commended and awarded for outstanding accomplishments. "Now is the time for all good freshmen to come to the aid of their school!" has been our motto. We hope to continue this spirit and are confident that by the time we make our valediction in 1965, we shall have set a name for ourselves well worth remembering.

However, seniors received their quid pro quo on a fateful Friday the thirteenth. It was October when the upperclassmen had failed to meet the freshman challenge to beat them in the Christmas card drive. As top sellers, the freshmen chalked 630 boxes to their credit.

MATHEMATICS

DETERMINING THE LOCATION of the square root of "x" on the real number line is a problem explained to the Algebra I students. This new approach to algebra and strengthens the relationship between them and basic ideas.

AN EXPERIMENT ON OSMOSIS absorbs the attention of student biologists Nancy Hanks and Rita Fulton. By making the positive test for starch they can examine the semi permeability of the animal tissue.

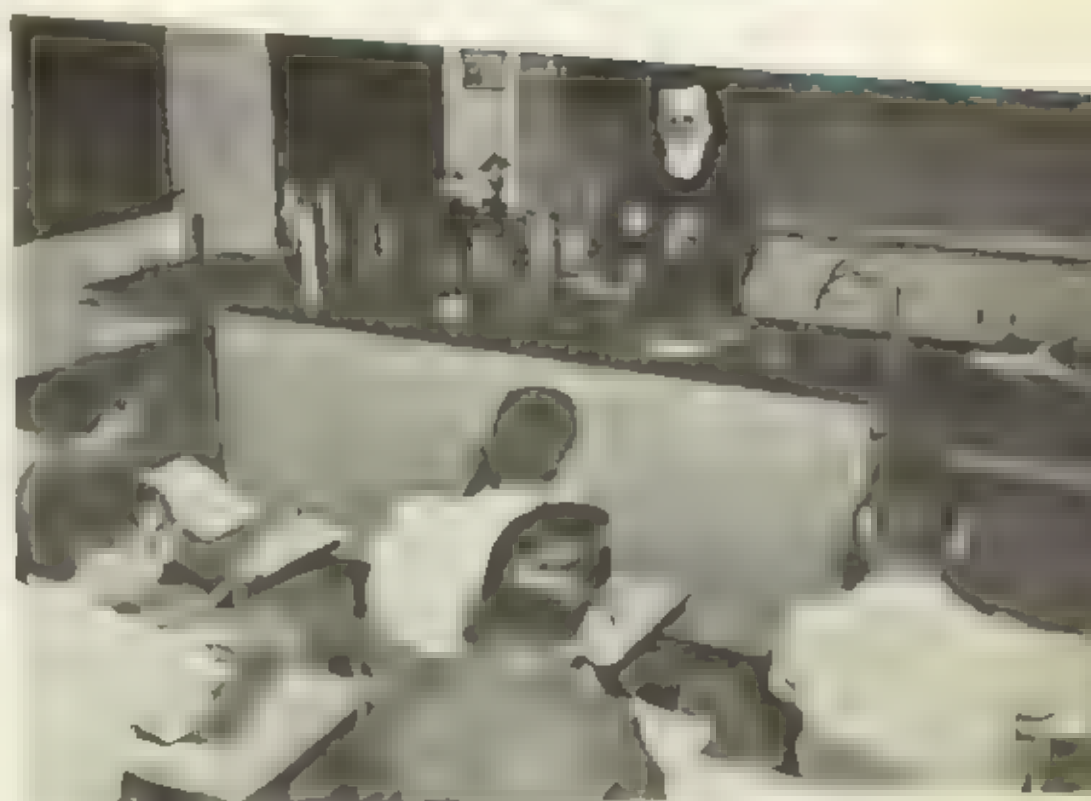

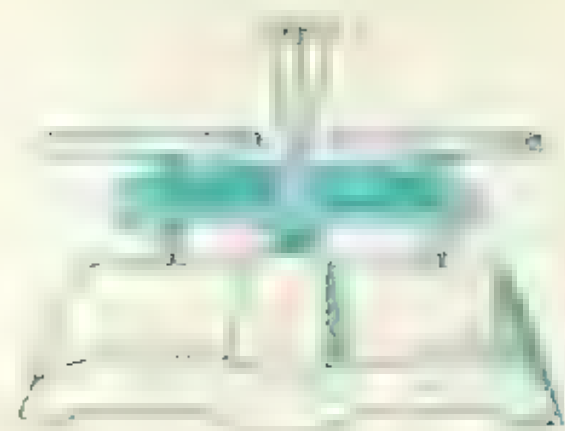

THE WORLD OF MICRO-ORGANISMS comes to life for Olivia Chagolla, Hope Carpio, and Cheryl Litchfield as they utilize a new microscope. Five AO Spencer Series Sixty Microscopes considered the newest and most practical of their kind, were added to the biology laboratory equipment.

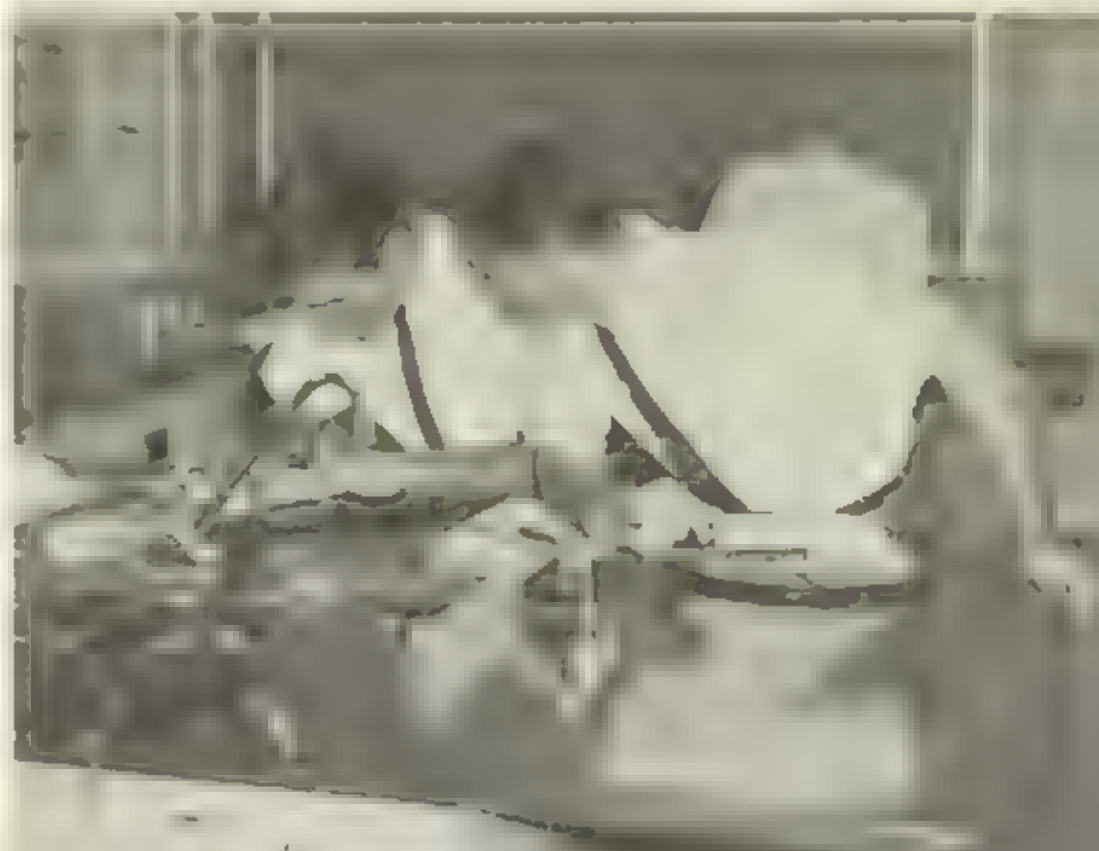

BY EMPLOYING AN ALARM in a bell jar and creating a vacuum Tim Porter proves that sound requires a material medium for transmission.

SCIENCE

THE SPECIFIC GRAVITY of a solution is measured by a hydrometer as illustrated by Sister Mary Ermenilda. The depth to which the rods sink in each cylinder differs and indicates the varying purities of the liquids.

RESOLUTION OF FORCES intrigues Nick Venuto and Bill Narzisi as they adjust a spring balance during an experiment. It involves separating forces into their components acting in definite directions on the same point.

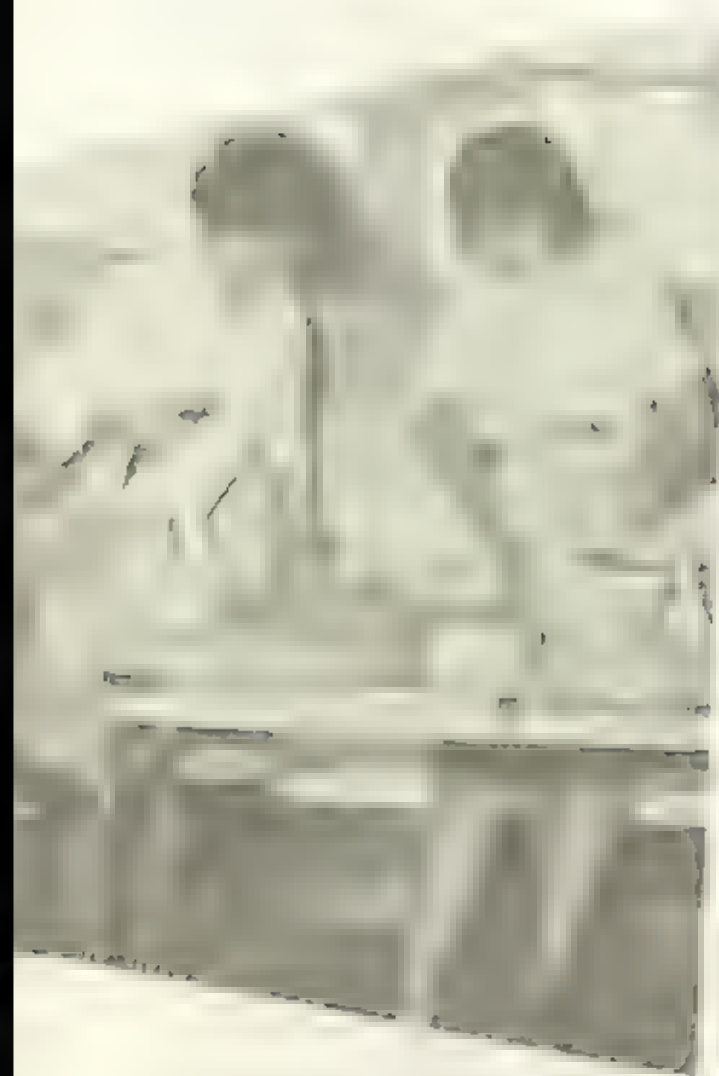

PATTERNED FOR FASHION freshman seamstresses Mary Craig, Jeanine Piper, and Pamela Nugent prepare designs which will eventually develop into varied, colorful creations. These girls know the ingredients that make up a fashionable smart look.

APRONS APT TO BE APPROPRIATE for the festive season of Christmas receive their final trim under the direction of Sister Mary Bertilia. The finished products were the envy of other girls at school.

HOMEMAKING

Blending a solid mixture of ingredients, Mary Flores, Mary Mikan, and Mary Stetani work with amazing concentration. The three fresh cooks are along the way of extracts, measurements, and temperature by Sister Mary Bertilla.

THE KITCHENETTE IS NO PLACE for mortification when Judy Flores, Beverly Sarten, Pat Hastie, Mary Mikan, Barbara Gavran, and Gwen Maurice play house. These girls are professional in techniques that make a dinner that is both palatable and economical.

CONTEST ENTRIES provide the art student with the opportunity to practice drawing and lettering. Paul Gasparini works on his Merit Award entry. Jackie Brewer and Rachel Gomez point to the drawing of a car sponsored by the Automobile Clubs of America. Mary Romero and Leslie Moran completed entries on a drawing of a car for the Latham Foundation competition.

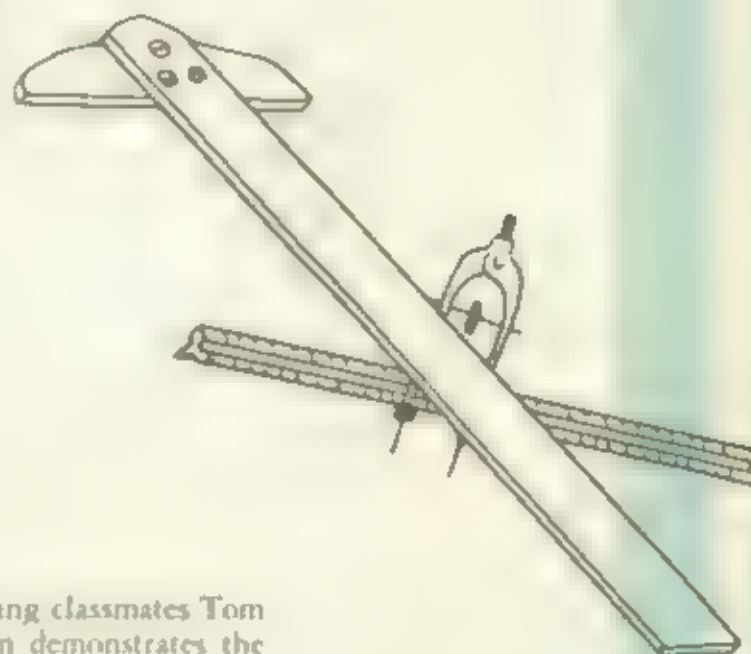

ARCHITECTURAL PLANNING is one of the fascinating aspects of advanced drafting. The future architects learn how to draw up the plans for their own dream houses. Ed Shaefer, Nick Venuto, John Calderas, Paul Krumhauer, and Jim Margala inspect a scale model home which was constructed by a student of Pomona Catholic.

YOU CAN CATCH A FALLING STAR and use it for observation and measurement. Nick Venuto constructed this one with the principles taught in Drafting II. The students handling samples of their craftsmanship are Ed Shaefer, Nick Venuto, Jim Margala, John Calderas, and Paul Krumhauer. The constructions on the desk were produced by first visualizing a three-dimensional object in its complete form and then drawing it flat to be cut out

"THIS IS A RULER," teaches Russell Jones to drafting classmates Tom Gafney, Mickie King, and Steve Cuihe. His caution demonstrates the importance of precision in mechanical drawing.

Approximately two hundred people gathered to hear speakers discuss various occupations at the second annual Career Night sponsored by the C.S.E. under the supervision of Sister Mary Eileen, M.H.

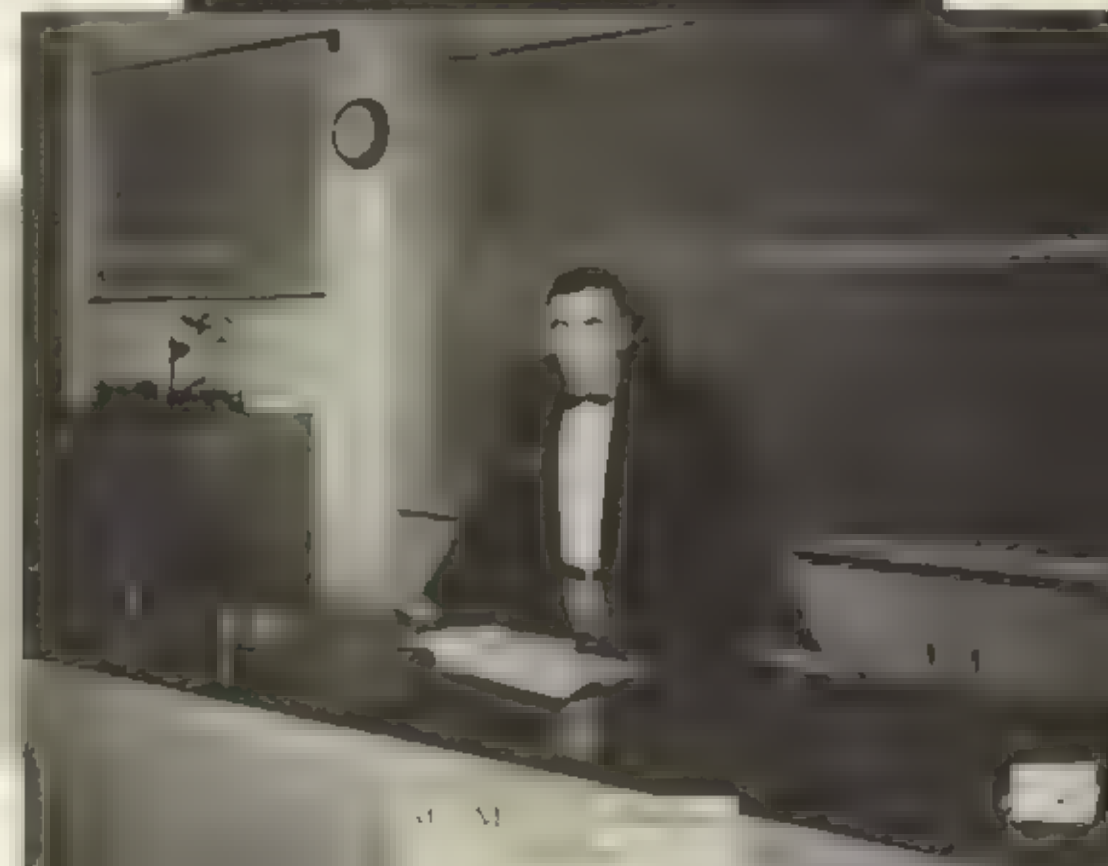

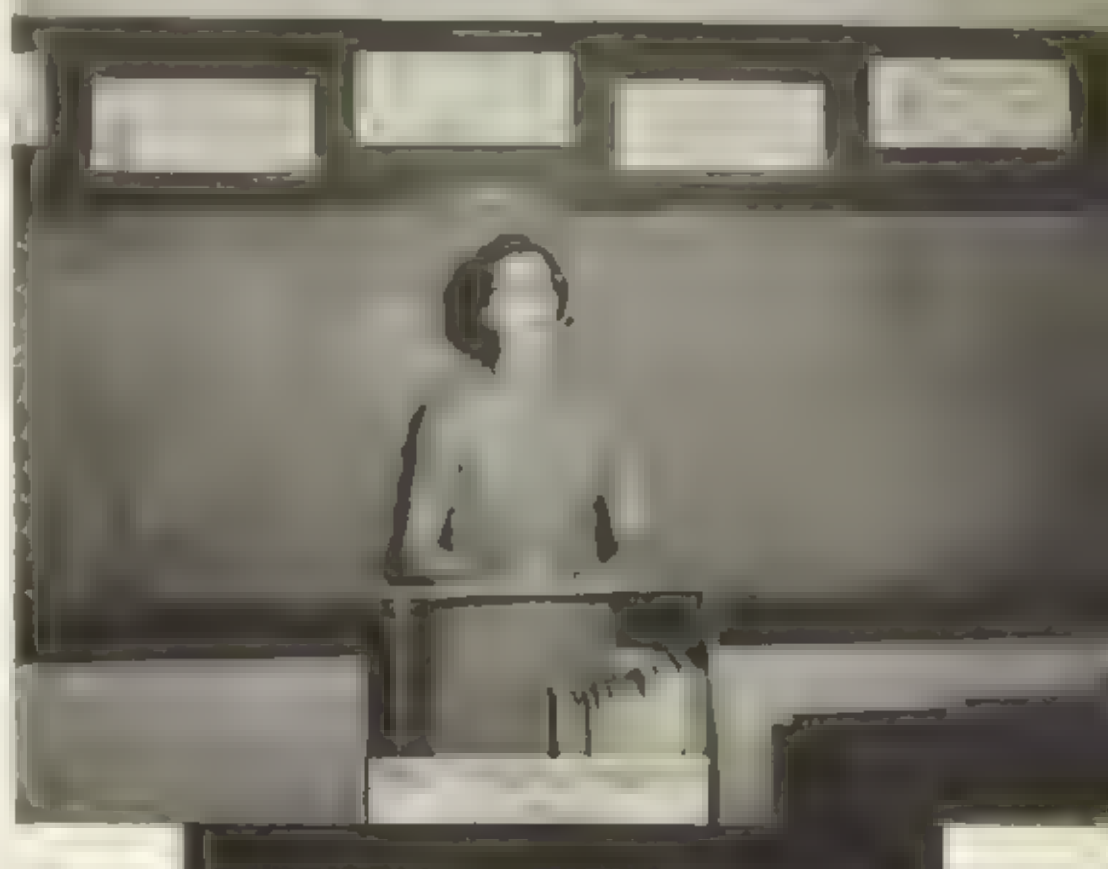

Career Night began with a general session for the school assembly. Mr. Thomas O'Connor, Dean of Students at Mount San Antonio College, headlined the program with the keynote address. After the general assembly, two one-hour sessions were held. The students and parents attended lectures in various classrooms where the guest speakers told a little about their fields.

Pomona Catholic was privileged to have these outstanding speakers:

Dr. A. Gezi	Teacher
Mr. Harold L. Biell	Professor
Mrs. Winifred Buckley	Journalist
Mrs. Theodore Girouard	Secretary
Mr. Corwin	Medical Professor
Mr. Melvin B. Belcher	Engineer
Mrs. Laurretta Wilkinson	Social Worker
Mr. Victor Tessier	Attorney
Mrs. Eva Stockonis, R.N.	Nurse
Lieutenant Ray Ferguson	Naval Officer

CHARACTER, SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP and service are vital qualities which are necessary for a student to be a member of the National Honor Society. The National Honor Society charter states the requirements for membership in the society. Officers Karen Stewart, vice president, Donna Wenzel, president, Donna Terlis, secretary, and Nancy Hanks, treasurer, coordinate the activities of the year 1962-1963.

GIRLS SODALITY

SMILING GIRLS' SODALITY OFFICERS Mary Ann Siler, Vallerie Bennett, and Susan Adams listen attentively to Prefect Susan Cummins while she pages through a book entitled The Mass. PCH sodalists composed and staged a skit on vocations at a district meeting held at Cantwell High School

MISSION CLUB

GIVING A HELPING HAND for a worthy cause are Mary Smotherman, Philomena Batista, Estella Elias, Geraldine Buckley, and Gwen O'Brien. The girls are cutting and sorting the thousands of stamps that the Mission Club collected for the Brazilian Missions.

ALTAR BOYS

FATHER COKLS poses on campus with altar boys Frank Talcott, Mike Le Doux, Tim Porter, Gabe King, Russell Jones, and Mike Tejeda. The students owe their gratitude to these young men for their faithful assistance at religious services.

RETREAT

THE PCH GUARDIAN ANGEL described his amazement over the peaceful quiet on campus during the yearly retreat. The three days of recollection offered an opportunity for students to make spiritual inventories.

UNDER FATHER COKE'S leadership, seven Sodality officers, Fr. Coopers, Russel Jones, Joe Peter, and Frank Linn, gathered at the Holy Family Church in Haverhill, Mass., for a retreat. The retreat was a spiritual journey with Father Coopers as the spiritual director. Mrs. Linn was the retreat assembly.

Service groups at PCH include the Key Club and Usherettes. The Key Club directed traffic in the halls during intermissions and ushered at church services and assemblies. With graduation, Key Club members will relinquish their authority to the Usherettes since there will be no boys on campus next year.

The Usherettes Club has functioned as a senior girls' service club since the establishment of PCH. This year, clever Usherettes decorated boxes, filled them with epicurean delights, and posted them for sale. Result? A boost for their scholarship fund. In early spring, they held their annual fashion show.

PINNING UP GALLEYS and making last-minute corrections are a small part of the work LANCÉ editors do to get the paper out. To make sure the paper comes out with the best possible productivity, here are some of the ways Sister Mary Angela, journalism advisor, Faithfully, Ron Anne Spezza and Barbara Sarten type copy for the printer.

FINDING THE PRECISE WORD is not always easy. Annette Stahly discovers that neither Roget nor Webster can help her with the idea she is determined to convey.

INSPIRATION IS OFTEN THE RESULT of hard work. Pat Mound, Sue Ellen Moran, Alice Carp, Carol Zemenick, and Pat Brutacao scan for the unusual in these books on their own time. It is such co-operation and sacrifice that made the Fidelity possible.

A GRIN SLOWLY STEALS across the face of Annette Stahly as Sister Mary Terence presents her with the first place award won in Original Oratory at the Catholic Forensic League Tournament. Sharing in her honor are Terry Clark, Katherine Marti, Suzanne McQuaid, Faith Kisler, Phyllis Kennedy, Linda Robson, Catherine Cicero, Gene Stewart, Sue Moran, and Chris Smith.

Eleven traveling PCH'ers arrived at Notre Dame High in Sherman Oaks ready for competition in the Catholic Forensic League Winter Tournament. Annette Stahly received laurels for Pomona Catholic with a first place win in Original Oratory. Faith Kisler and Suzanne McQuaid earned Certificates of Superiority. Terry Clark and Kathy Martin each received Certificates of Excellence.

AT THE INVITATION OF CHAFFEY HIGH SCHOOL, Linda Robson, Terry Clark, Faith Kisler, Suzanne McQuaid, Christine Corrigan, Chris Smith, Annette Stahly, and Gene Stewart entered the annual Mask and Gavel Tournament

Trying their luck again, competitive Spartans entered the annual Mask and Gavel Tournament held at Chaffey High School. Christine Corrigan and Suzanne McQuaid carried top honors. Christine won first in the poetry division; Suzanne placed first in original oratory. Chris Smith claimed second and Terry Clark a third in dramatic interpretation. Annette Stahly received a second in original oratory, and Gene Stewart placed third in oratorical interpretation.

The 1961 varsity football season closed with the Spartan record standing at 3-6. True, it is not the best in the twelve year story of P.C.H., but understandable in the light of the stiffest competition faced by the Spartans in perhaps all of their history. Although the league consisted of only five teams, two of them, Saint Francis and Bishop Amat, breezed through their playoff games and ended up squaring off for the CIF class AA championship.

The Spartans started off on the right foot by handing the Covina Colts a 14-13 defeat. The situation was reversed in the following game, as P.C. came out on the short end of a 13-12 score against Saint Bernard's. Santa Maria downed Pomona Catholic 20-6, but P.C.H. spirits rose as the Spartans trounced Yucaipa 32-0 to culminate their pre-season play.

Spartans Topple Techmen in Homecoming

A Don Bosco center committed a mistake so rare as to be almost non-existent today, and gave the Spartans a 13-6 victory to start them on the winning road after two consecutive losses. Late in the fourth quarter, the Techmen lost the ball on their own 25 yard line. Techmen 1-4 point, Don Bosco 0-0.

League play opened with Pomona Catholic downing Don Bosco 13-6 in P.C.H.'s Homecoming tilt. The Spartans took on heavily favored Saint Frances the following week, and with a very lopsided score expected in the Knights' favor, the league champions only managed to upset the Spartans 12-6 on the strength of a last quarter touchdown.

With injuries mounting, the Spartans faced San Gabriel Mission's Pioneers in their third league contest. Mission seized advantage of all the breaks coming their way, and took the measure of P. C. 27-0.

In their final league gridfest the shorthanded Spartans again dropped their game 27-0 to highly touted Bishop Amat. The Lancers went on to capture the C.I.F. championship by beating Saint Francis.

Plagued by injuries, P.C.H. fought their last campaign with Mater Die. The monarchs, perennial league champs until last year, overcame P. C. 35-0. Thus the Spartan eleven brought the history of Pomona Catholic to a close.

An 80-yard touchdown jaunt, a blocked kick, and two sustained drives added up to a 27-0 victory for the San Gabriel Mission Pioneers over Pomona Catholic on November 10. It was as good a game as the scoreboard showed.

HOMECOMING of 1961

Car caravan, bonfire rally, royalty, festive dancing every year these ingredients are skillfully blended to produce a very special kind of excitement popularly known at P.C.H. as Homecoming. The 1961 batch was pronounced "excellent" by all epicures of Spartan tradition.

The first course was a bonfire rally at which the queen and princesses were announced. Next on the activity menu was the car caravan in which green-and-white garnished chariots paraded through downtown Pomona.

The football game climaxed the activities. Before a capacity crowd, the Spartan eleven mashed the Don Bosco's Techmen 13-6. At half-time, Queen Sharon and her royal attendants were escorted down a red carpet to the center of the field, where they regally accepted the tribute of Pepsters and student body.

"Autumn Nocturne" proved a most fitting theme of the Homecoming dance held at the Sierra Club in Upland. The atmosphere was seasoned with the music of the Blue Notes and topped with the coronation of Queen Sharon by Coach Rod Long. When the festivities ended, the dancers drifted home still savoring the unforgettable flavor of the 1961 Homecoming.

THIS HAPPY CARLOAD led the Homecoming car caravan. Tom Chinaco is master of the situation and with him are Rick Seville, Lolly Yoder, Sharon Wiethoff, Nancy Clark, Kathy Kruszona, Jan Ivy, and Patty Jessup. Handling the wheel is Jerry McCoun.

SEASON OF THE YEAR AWARD is Sam Licato's reward for outstanding performance on the grid. Mr. George Pattee of the Santa Fe League is here making the presentation.

Mr. Pattee is presenting the Spartan of the Week Award. One player is awarded this trophy for completion of each game as having turned in the best performance.

The annual Sports Banquet saluting the football players of Pomona Catholic was held on December 2 at the Pomona Catholic Boys' School in La Verne. More than 250 enthusiastic Spartans turned out to support the coaches, cheerleaders, and players who contributed so much to the past football season.

Mr. Charles Hall, head coach at the University of California, was the guest speaker of the evening. Gridders received their letters and outstanding achievements were rewarded with traditional Spartan trophies.

FALL SPORTS BANQUET 1961

THE PETER OTTENSALLEN MAN AWARD was given to Mike Powers for his leadership and outstanding performance throughout the season. Mr. Powers was named the most valuable player of every game of the season.

THE LADDER ROUND CHAIR trophy was awarded to Jack B. Huxley for his leadership and outstanding performance throughout the season. He was named to the all Santa Fe League's second team.

WITH HANDS OUTSTRETCHED, senior Bill Mattson (50) cap't. sought to block a shot by Kevin Forstner. The Knights proved too good for the Spartans, winning the P.C. five 48-38.

RUSSEL BOWLES (4) DRIVES IN FOR TWO POINTS, and after two more for P.C. H. beat La Salle. The two were joined by P.C. players in a combined throw-in score total of 137 points.

1962

A BISHOP MONTGOMERY OPPONENT bails in his attempt to block shot by Kevin Forstner (15) in home court contest at Cal Poly. The Spartans were upset 58-49.

BILL MATTSON (50), JOHN CAMPBELL (52), and a La Salle adversary scramble for the rebound at the Lancers home court. In spite of a fine team effort on the part of the Spartans, La Salle triumphed 99-49.

MAKING IT LOOK EASY, Kevin Forstner (15) hits for two points in league contest with La Salle. P.C.H. had no luck with the Lancers, being dumped in both their meetings.

A 5-17 record may not be much of a consolation to the battle weary Spartans, but the P.C. tive should take pride in a fine team effort that doesn't always show up in the records. Nine of those defeats were by 11 points or less, and the season record could very well have been much better.

A 31-24 defeat at the hands of Claremont gave the Spartans a doubtful start, but P.C.H. bounced back to knock off Montclair in a 38-36 thriller that saw Jack Roach sink the winning basket with 50 seconds remaining in the game. Two defeats in the Montclair tournament and another pair of unsuccessful attempts against Mater Dei brought the Covina tournament around, but Pomona Catholic hadn't yet hit the winning road as they were ousted in the first round by being downed twice in a row.

Things were looking up as the Spartans entered the Santa Fe league carnival, and P.C. hopes rose as Bishop Amat fell prey to the green and white 41-38. A 19 point effort by Russell Bowes played a major part in enabling P.C.H. to bounce Chaminad 63-43. St. Francis and Mission cooled the Spartan winning streak until the cagers caught fire and downed Bishop Amat 55-51. Pomona Catholic made it two in a row with a 74-62 trouncing of Don Bosco.

It wasn't for three more games, however, that the Spartans found the winning combination and P.C. closed the season with a final victory over Don Bosco.

LEAPING HIGH INTO THE AIR, senior Bill Mattson outjumps St. Francis cager and sinks another field goal for the green and white.

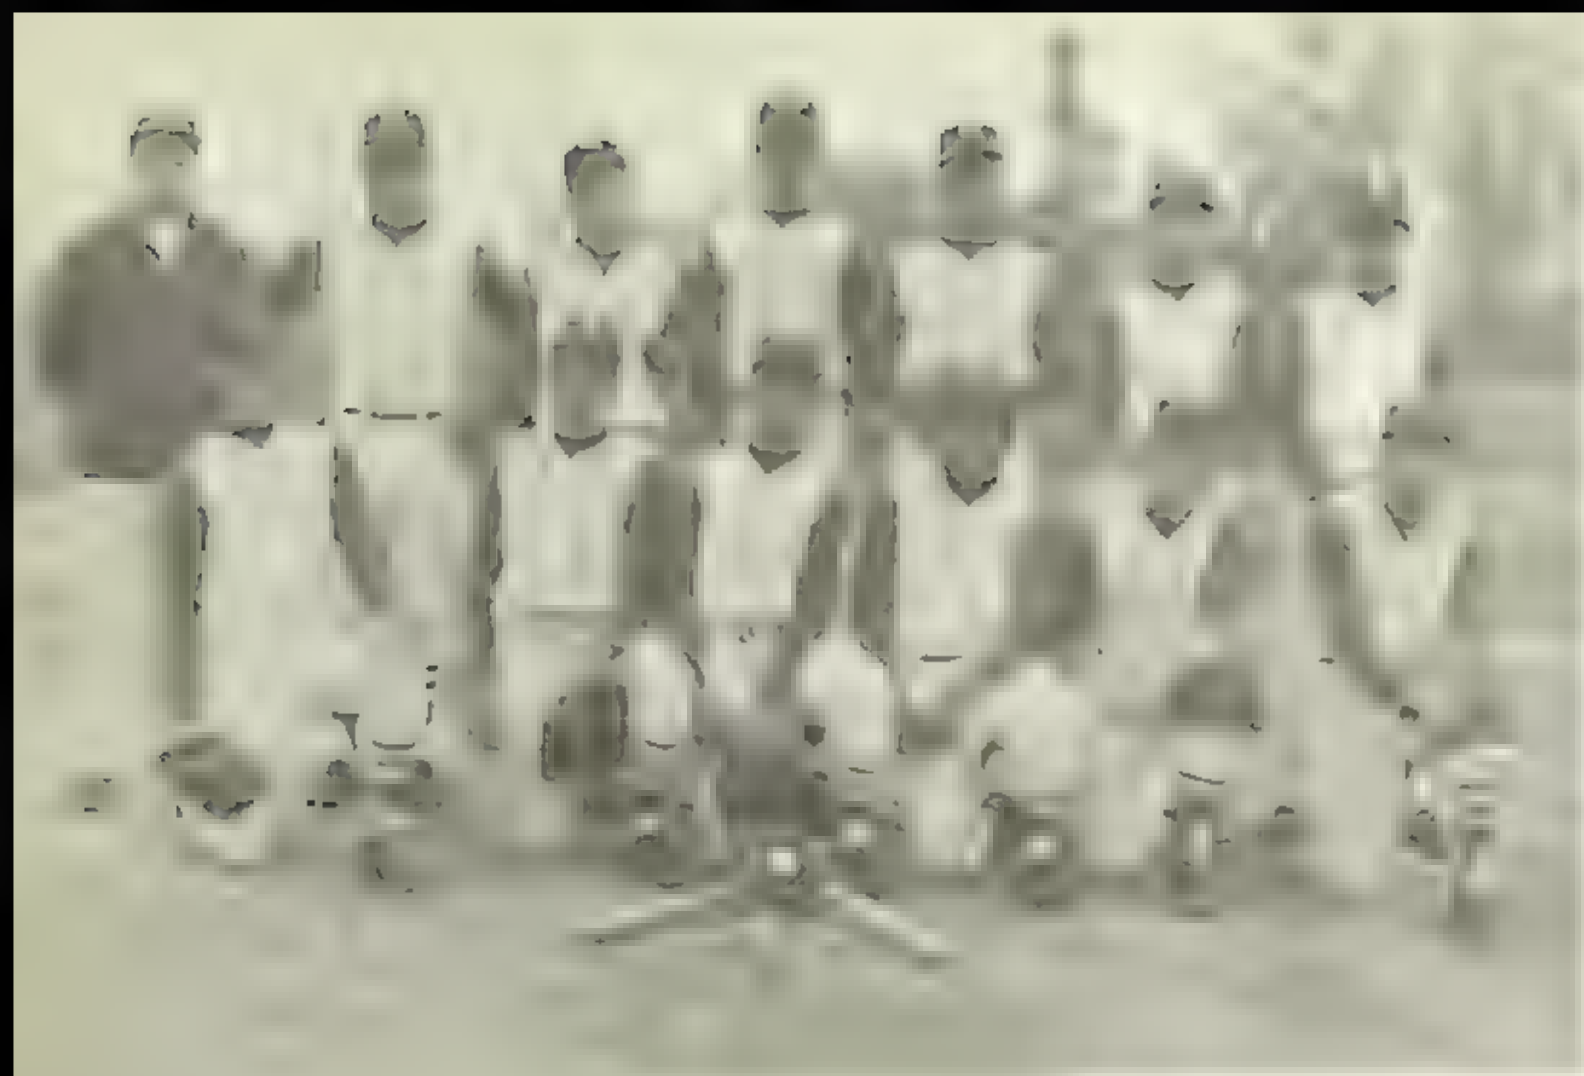

VARSITY ACE BILL MATTSON shoots for a pair of points against Don Bosco. The veteran cager became third high scorer for the Spartans, compiling a total of 125 digits

JOHNSTON CLEARS THE EIGHTH hurdle slightly behind teammate Jim Mallory but pulled up to take third in the event. Pat Taylor, (background) was deprived of a sure victory when he fell after striking the sixth barrier, a misfortune that proved to be the turning point of the bout as St. Francis edged the Spartans by a mere two points.

JOHN CAMPBELL LEAPS 14' 5" in the broad jump at the Spartan's oval. Campbell, whose broad jump was off the last year's level, cleared 5' 10" in winning the high jump and garnered a third in the 110 the same day.

JACK ROACH, POMONA CATHOLIC'S ACE 880 man, edges opponent in league meet with St. Francis. Roach, who went undefeated most of the season, suffered his first loss to the Knight's Neal Berger.

SAILING OVER THE BAR, Pat Taylor vaults 9' 6" in the Mater Dei spikefest. The Monarchs upset the Spartans 65-39 in the pre-league battle.

HITTING THE TAPE in 10 flat, Joe Laberrare adds another century victory and 5 points to the Spartan credit. Improving steadily as the season progressed, Laberrare's clocking was only 1 second off the school record.

HIGH STEPPING JIM MALLORY is out in front in the 120 high hurdles during meet with St. Francis. The Knights squeaked past P.C. 53-51 in Pomona Catholic's first league contest.

PRECISION AND DIVERSITY. The PCH Pepsters, under the leadership of Coach Jerry B. Smith, have been a constant presence at school events. They performed at the PCH Homecoming observance on November 29, where they were awarded the second place award. The following night they were hostesses in the annual Christmas Parade in downtown Portland. The flagsters were especially commended for having scored 478 points out of a possible 500 at this event. The drill team and flagsters were awarded the first place trophy for their brilliant performance in the Glendora Christmas Parade on December 9. Thus the Pepsters have closed another year of activity on behalf of their school.

Pepsters have been constantly on the move this year. In spite of the heat and long walk, they performed well at the County Fair early last September. In October they added color to the PCH Homecoming observance. On November 29 they participated in Fowler University's Homecoming March in which they received the second place award.

The following night they were hostesses in the annual Christmas Parade in downtown Portland. The flagsters were especially commended for having scored 478 points out of a possible 500 at this event.

The Girls' Athletic Association is one of the most active organizations on campus. In close collaboration with the Department of Physical Education, its immediate purpose is to promote the physical well-being of each of its members, an end which in turn is subservient to such higher aims as the promotion of emotional stability, intellectual alertness, and good healthy moral habits.

Athletic activities are gauged to provide opportunities for such a development. This year varsity and sub-varsity teams were organized in the areas of volleyball, basketball, and softball to meet the challenge of interscholastic sports within the framework of the Catholic Girls' High School Athletic League.

Membership in the G.A.A. has grown significantly in the past year. The sustained interest with which the girls strove to amass credit points toward letters is an indication of the degree of success the organization has attained at PCH.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

PRESENTING A MEDAL OF MERIT at the 1961 Press Banquet, Rt. Rev. Msgr. English extends congratulations to RICHARD GRIMM for his excellent photography. This year Richard's merits have been even greater. Perhaps no other staff member dedicated as many free hours to the FIDELIAN project. For such service the staff says, 'Thanks'.

BUSINESS MANAGER DIANA FELLIS teases KAREN SIEGERT into surrendering her sponsor sales. Karen has been the top saleswoman for two consecutive years. Diana and FIDELIAN staff members say thanks to SISTER MARY AMANDETTE for directing the business problems. By all means, we are most grateful to our ADVERTISERS and SPONSORS without whom the book would not have been possible.

NOW THAT THE JOB IS DONE, editor Mary Ann Siler and co-editor John Calderas can smile. They and their staff have reserved their special gratitude for SISTER MARY FILO NILLA whose contributions to the artistic touches in the annual were invaluable. The staff is no less grateful to the PRINCIPAL SISTER MARY BENILDA and other FACULTY MEMBERS for their wholehearted support.
